

Saint-Gobain bases its development on the respect for people and their environment. As a major player in the construction sector, and being aware of the potential impact of human activities

